

Warranty and liability of Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH

Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH guarantees that all products delivered by it are in flawless technical condition at the time of delivery. Its products meet the specifications of the producer as well as the applicable standards (EN 60974-7) of the European Community.

The period of warranty begins at the day of delivery ex works. The date of the sales invoice is the valid date.

Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH is liable for 12 months from the date of delivery for all flaws on products which have been caused by a circumstance prior to delivery, in particular by such circumstances that are related to faulty design, faulty material and faulty workmanship, which make the delivered good unusable or limit its usability significantly.

The correction of faults or a compensation delivery at own costs is carried out if a product has a flaw which has been caused by a cause as described above and therefore falls in the responsibility of Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH. Other claims of the orderer for further expenditures are explicitly ruled out, especially such as costs for transport, tolls, labor costs if the delivered goods have been delivered on to other locations.

In case a flaw of the product is discovered it has to be reported to Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH in written form.

Excluded from warranty are:

- Minor variances of the agreed quality and a negligible impairment of usability.
- Normal wearout of products.
- Damages caused by grossly negligent or inattentive usage of a product for example ignoring of power ratings, etc.
- Damages caused by combination of inappropriate equipment, or damages which have been caused by usage of low quality consumables or spare parts.
- All damages which have been caused by external repairs, external changes of the product or external corrective maintenance.

By no means is Holch Schweißbrenner GmbH liable for any secondary damages on equipment or material other than the delivered product itself.
